MARTIN E. COOK

Martin Elmer Cook, 66, of McCaskill, died Saturday. He was district supervisor for the Department of Agriculture in Arkansas and Louisiana for 25 years. He was a cattleman.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Elsie York Cook; a daughter, Mrs. Paul D. Brandt of Texas; two stepsons, Ronnie and Russell Wardlaw, both of Washington, D. C., a stepdaughter, Veronica Wardlaw of Hope; a brother, Jody Cook of Madison; two half brothers, E. K. Haugland of Donaldson and Judson Spurlin of California; two sisters, Mrs. C. L. Davis of Bald Knob and Mrs. Odie Johnson of Donaldson.

Services were to be Monday at 2 p.m. at Midway in Hot Springs County. Burial was to be in Neighbors Cemetery at Midway by Murry-Ruggles Funeral Home.

Six Persons Die in State Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Six persons died in Arkansas as the result of traffic accidents that occurred between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

Bob Foshee, 27, of Locust Grove (Independence County) died Sunday night in a Little Rock hospital of injuries he received in a one-car crash Sunday morning.

Authorities said Foshee, his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swain, all of Locust Grove, were found Sunday morning on Arkansas 14 about 15 miles west of Batesville. Officers said it was impossible to determine how long the two couples had been there.

Mrs. Foshee and the Swains were listed in fair condition at a Little Rock hospital.

Lester W. Rhoads, 63, of El Dorado, was killed Sunday in a two car collision on U.S. Highway 82, about three miles south of El Dorado, and his wife was fatally injured. Authorities said Mrs. Della Hemme Rhoads, 64, died later at an El Dorado hospital.

decision favoring the Rogers School District in a suit brought by a group of taxpayers seeking to void a 9-mill building fund tax approved last Sept. 27.

The nine mills were part of a 55-mill tax voted in the election. The taxpayers contended that they should have been permitted to vote separately on the nine mills.

The Supreme Court said, however, that if the voters did not want to approve the nine mills they could have rejected the entire 55-mill levy. The court said the rate then would have remained at the old figure of 46 mills.

I another opinion, the court ruled against Mrs. Luther Cook, who sought to collect damages of $132,750 for the shooting death of her husband. Cook was shot by a conductor on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Feb. 25, 1965 after allegedly breaking into a caboose in Union County.

urbs and less into the low-income areas that are the main target of the administration program.

"With the limited amount of money now being appropriated for education in this country," Perkins said, "we should continue to zero in on the targets of real need."

Perkins said the church-state issue is lurking in Quie's proposal because a majority of state constitutions prevent spending of public funds for nonpublic purposes.

The 1965 Elementary and Secondary School Act gets around the issue by earmarking the money for needy children and requiring that they benefit from the programs whether they are in public or parochial schools.

"You know what would happen if we said to the chief state school officers of the 50 states, 'Here is your grant. Take it and improve your schools,' and then walked away," said Perkins.

"The present programs involving private school pupils would in many cases simply end right then and there."

Communist positions Sunday near the Leatherneck outpost at Con Thien. A U.S. spokesman said 36 North Vietnamese soldiers and 26 Marines were killed and 59 Marines were wounded.

In the 12 hours before the Red cease-fire, the Communists lashed out with mortar barrages on American and Vietnamese posts up and down South Vietnam. About 40 miles east of Saigon a Viet Cong ambush smashed an eight-vehicle convoy Sunday morning from the U.S. 11th Armored Regiment, killing 16 of the 48 Americans, wounding 29 and knocking out four of the vehicles. Twenty-one Viet Cong bodies were found.

Although the allied cease-fire does not take effect until tonight, there was no indication of any heavy U.S. ground activity today. However, the Air Force said the air war against North Vietnam went on without letup and the usual number of raids were made.

Orders were given for no bombs to be dropped after midnight, but the Air Force said reconnaissance planes would remain over North Vietnam throughout the 24-hour truce period.

Bright Sun Clears Skies in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 A bright sun cleared the skies over Arkansas Monday after another dismal weekend.

Abundant sunshine will prevail across the state Tuesday. A stationary front to the south of the state was responsible for the widespread cloudiness and rainfall in south Arkansas over the weekend.

The next shower period is expected, late in the week or over the weekend.

The five-day Arkansas forecast ending at 6 a.m. Sunday calls for temperatures to range from two to four degrees above normal in Northwest Arkansas to near normal elsewhere in the state. Rainfall, mostly at the end of the week, will average less than one-quarter of an inch.

The forecast by the U. S. Weather Bureau for Tuesday calls for sunny skies and warmer temperatures. The low predicted for tonight is in the low 40s in the north portions of the state. The high forecast for Tuesday is in the low 80s. Overnight low temperatures

MONDAY, May 22, 1967 ranged from 49 at Walnut Ridge and Fort Smith to 66 at Texarkana and Harrison. Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 7 a.m. ranged from a trace at Blytheville to 1.30 at El Dorado.

CITY MANAGER TALKS TO NEWCOMERS

City Manager Garland Medders spoke to the Newcomers Club at a meeting in the WOW Hall on Thursday, May 18. He told the group something about the operation of the city government, and a period of questions and answers followed with good participation by the members.

Mrs. Charles Carey, who is serving as temporary chairman of the club until election of officers in the fall, introduced the speaker. She also welcomed two new members, Mrs. Judy Peters and Mrs. Thelma Smith.

Mrs. Marie Treet won the door prize. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Nina Arrington, Mrs. Beverly Dennis, and Mrs. Dorothy Johnson.

Program chairman Mrs. Joyce Morgan promises an interesting program at next month's meeting on June 15, 8 p.m., in the WOW Hall. Anyone who has moved to Hope in the last two years is cordially invited to attend.

MILLS FAMILY REUNION MAY 21

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Mills was the scene of a happy family reunion on Sunday, May 21. As a tribute to "Mary," her Roseberry relatives began to arrive early to surprise her completely.

The morning was spent visiting, recalling the past, and bringing families up-to-date. At noon a beautiful basket lunch was spread and afterward, amid much posing and laughter, pictures were made of all the family groups. A highlight of the visiting was the viewing of pictures of previous family reunions.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Mills, host and hostess; Miss Hattie Tyree, Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. Malinda Mathews, Emmet; Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Riddick, Vivian, La.; Mr.

and Mrs. H. H. Riddick, Crowley, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Wylie, Monroe, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Andrews and son, Allen, Prescott; Curtis K. Riddick, Houston; Mrs. Josie Roseberry, Malvern; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roseberry and sons, Malvern; Mr. and Mrs. William Roseberry, son, Bill, and daughter, Janice, Little Rock; Mrs. Marty Krieger and daughter, Becky, Malvern; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Westerman, Lynnne and Reba, Malvern; Jimmy and Jane Smith Krieger, Malvern; Miss June Riddick, Houston; and friends, Mrs. J. M. Johnson and daughter, Eula Jo, Emmet.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Adams, Route 1, Fulton, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Ruth, to Charles Edward Gormley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gormley, Route 1, Emmet.

The bride-elect is a 1966 graduate of Guernsey High School, and her fiancé is a 1964 graduate of Laneburg High School and employed at Arkia Village in Emmet.

The wedding will be an event of June 3.

GOLF GROUP MEETS

The Hope Ladies Golf Association made a good showing at the Women's Golf Tournament held in Camden on Thursday, May 18. Winners included: first flight, Low Net, Mrs. Emmett Wassell; second flight, Low Gross, Mrs. Earl Lockett, Low Net, Mrs. Cecil Delaney, Low Putts, Mrs. Walter Wilson; third flight, Low Putts, Mrs. Glenn Norris.

Though they were not winners, Mrs. John Crafton, Mrs. Henry Fenwick, and Mrs. Henry Seaman also represented the local golf association well in the tournament.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

NO FUN ANY MORE

Dear Helen: You said the mating game wouldn't be much fun without the good 'ol battle of the sexes, which some call the "double standard." I agree!

It isn't much fun any more because there isn't any more "battle." Men aren't eager as we used to be because dames are too available. Women are so anxious to be "equal" that they're trying to take man's role of "conquest" away from him. When you take one out for dinner and know before the night begins it will end with drinks at HER apartment, you get to feeling like the prospective mate of a Black Widow Spider.

In their effort to prove they're better men than we are women have turned romance into a contest. It's a sad day when a man has to say "No" to tame a dame!—BACHELOR AND TIRED

Dear B and T: Why don't you get married and get a little rest?—H.

Those visiting also were Miss Sue Shope and Amber Booker of Emmet and Miss Bonnie Mae Hembree of Rt. 3, Hope, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. John Honea, Lynn and Jeff of Little Rock spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Willis Honea.

TV Notebook

By JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Listen to Ed Ames on the subject, "What a Difference a Hit Record Makes".

"In the beginning you keep knocking on doors and after a lot of hard work you get your foot in the door. Your foot gets squashed from time to time, but the door is partly open. Suddenly you have a hit record and those doors fly open."

Ed's hit is "My Cup Runneth Over," and both a single and an RCA Victor album of that name are top sellers. Today he can walk down New York's Fifth Avenue and find his album prominently displayed in one of the street's most influential book and record stores. That proves he has a hit.

To capitalize on his suddenly becoming a big seller in the record field (a difficult chore for Ed, because he sings beautifully and that's a handicap these days), RCA has rushed another single, "Time, Time," into the stores, to be followed by an album (his seventh) of the same name, set for June release.

Ed is at a crucial point in his career, "but I know exactly where I want to go."

Next season he will make fewer appearances as Mingo on NBC-TV's Daniel Boone, leaving him free to pursue his plan.

"I want to do two feature films. For three years I haven't been able to go on extended concert tours, and I want to do that. The plan is to consolidate my career and then, next season, return to Broadway. That's where life was happiest. But I'm only going to return if the role is right. There aren't many men's shows today. Most of the musicals are built around women—'Hello Dolly,' 'Sweet Charity,' 'Mame'—and men's roles in shows like that are not my cup of tea."

With Ed's rugged good looks, acting and singing ability, even his cup of tea should runneth over.

Follow Up Hand Care

After any painting, scrubbing or gardening job, an application of hand cream is recommended to lubricate the skin. Turpentine, paint removers and detergents are extra-hard on hands and follow-up care is important. At bedtime, apply a second coating of hand cream to help counteract roughness, chapping or irritation.

Make Up Eyes Carefully

Consider both the color of your eyes and the color of your hair when choosing eye make-up. A brown-eyed blonde should not wear the same shadow shades as a brown-eyed brunette. Use three eye shadow shades when you want special effect. Sweep a fashion shade on the lids, back it up with a contourer in the creases of the lids and a highlighter under the arch of the eyebrows.

Dear Helen: This is for the wife whose husband never says "I love you." Five years ago she could have been me, I felt very neglected. My husband seemed distant, our marriage drifting apart. I thought I was being a good wife. But then I took a good look at myself, and realized it was I who wasn't fulfilling my end of the bargain. I wasn't the same person he had married 25 years earlier. My wants and desires had changed. I had settled into a selfish little life and my husband was reacting with indifference. While my life had become easier, with the children grown, his job was getting harder and more tiring. I asked myself, who should be the one to say, "I love you?" I showed my husband I could still be the girl he married, even if it took extra effort, and, believe me, Helen, it has paid off. You'd think we were a couple of newlyweds again. We're happier than ever, because we put the zip back into our marriage.—H.

Hank Aaron Bats Braves to Victory

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hank Aaron heard he was only second best so he figured he'd better try harder.

That was the witty explanation Aaron had Sunday for his prolific day at the plate in which he lashed two homers, two singles, drove in four runs and scored three as Atlanta whipped Pittsburgh 7-2.

The Braves' right fielder referred to a controversy touched off by an Atlanta baseball broadcaster involving a comparison between Aaron and the Pirates' right fielder, Roberto Clemente.

Going into Sunday's game Clemente was showing why Hamilton and numerous others think so highly of him. He was batting .402 with seven home runs and 27 runs batted in. However, he went zero-for-four and his average dipped to .388.

Aaron, on the other hand, soared to .326 with his performance and raised his homer total to 11 and his RBI output to 29.

And to top off his exhibition, Aaron—who doesn't have the great arm Clemente has—threw out the Pirate star as he tried to go from first to third on a single in the fourth inning.

In other NL games Philadelphia edged Cincinnati 2-1 in 18 innings, St. Louis nipped New York 3-2, Houston blanked San Francisco 2-0 and Los Angeles downed Chicago 6-1 before bowing 8-2.

Damascus Winner of Preakness

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — "The winner of the Preakness is cordially invited to test his mettle at a mile and a half," reads a newspaper ad.

"The Belmont June 3rd. R.S.V.P. Aqueduct." "I accept," Damascus said Sunday through his trainer, Frank H. Whiteley, Jr.

The Belmont winds up the Triple Crown for Damascus saw to it Saturday with his authoritative victory in the Preakness that this is another year without a colt sweeping it. Citation was the last to win all three 19 years ago.

The triumph put Damascus firmly back in the running for election as the best 3-year-old of 1967. It was by 2 lengths over In Reality and 6 over Proud Clarion, the Kentucky Derby winner.

American Wins Tennis Meet

REGGIO EMILIA, Italy (AP) — Rosemary Casals of San Francisco won the Reggio Emilia International Women's Tennis Tournament Sunday, beating Lea Pericoli of Italy 4-6, 6-0, 6-3.

Champion Jumping Frog Picked

By LYLE W. PRICE
ANGELS CAMP, Calif. (AP) — A bumblebee-fed frog named after an Air Force missile has outjumped 2,000 of his cousins from around the world to become the new "celebrated jumping frog of Calaveras County."

With three mighty leaps before a crowd of 60,000 Sunday, Sidewinder IV showed his flickering webfeet to such also-rans as an Australian entry with a kangaroo jump, an invisible Hawaiian frog that disappeared into the stands and a human "frog."

Sidewinder's leap of 17 feet, 11 inches makes him not only celebrated, but with the $300 title money, about the richest frog around.

Owner Mike Voltich, Stockton, Calif., tavern owner and 25-year frog jump veteran, promised his entry such rewards as escape from the Monday morning frying pan, rest and all the bumblebees he can handle.

"I've been jumping frogs for 25 years," Voltich declared after the victory. "I've got my own pond. First you find them, then you start training them two weeks ahead of time. I won't tell you the rest. It's a professional secret."

Grandson Mike Guisto, the trainer, offered a hint to success: "You hit the floor behind him and if he won't jump, you tickle him."

A legal hassle swirls around Victor B. Bonamour of Bordeaux, France, who appeared in an all-green outfit and jumped 19 feet, 10 inches.

"I've got a court writ from San Francisco attorney Melvin Belli that certifies I'm a frog," insisted Bonamour, a 22-year-old student at Hayward, Calif., Junior College.

"The fifth dictionary definition of a frog is a Frenchman — and I want to jump," he declared.

Officials said he wouldn't qualify unless he could stay under water for 15 minutes and leap from all fours. Bonamour, a scuba diver, offered to do so but his claim was disallowed.

Stockton Winner at Fort Worth

Fort Worth, Tex. (AP) — Dave Stockton says you have to profit from your mistakes, especially in this business of playing golf for money.

After the black-haired young man from San Bernardino, Calif., won the $115,000 Colonial National Invitation Sunday with a closing three-over-par 73 and 278 for 72 holes — a two-stroke triumph — he called to mind what happened to him in the final round at Greensboro, N.C., this year.

"I hit a lot of fine practice shots and then on the first hole snap hooked my tee shot for a double bogey," he related, frowning his brow at the memory "I never could recover."

He entered the final round tied for the lead and boasting a six-stroke budge over the field. Archer shot a 68 to win the tournament, Stockton skied to 74.

Stockton said he kept thinking about his mistakes and decided he wouldn't ever do that again. "I had to be relaxed if I won," he related.

He was facing the same situation that he did at Greensboro—he was tied with Tom Weiskopf for first place entering the final round.

Pine Bluff Athlete Wins Decathlon

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — David Hunter of Pine Bluff won the fourth Arkansas High School Decathlon Saturday, although his point production fell off considerably from the first day.

Hunter wound up with 7,379 points for the ten-event, two-day affair.

He appeared headed toward a record after accumulating 4,514 points Friday, but scored only 2,864 Saturday. Gordon Norwood of Pine Bluff holds the record of 8,158.

Doug Jennings of Eudora finished second with 7,022 points, and George Morgan of Pine Bluff was third with 6,901.

Three records were set during the event. Hunter jumped 22 feet, 3 inches Friday in the long jump. The record was 21 feet, 9 inches.

Mike Fields, a junior from Stamps who finished fifth in the decathlon, set a 440-yard dash record with a 50.0 clocking, 1.1 better than the old record.

Dennis Murphy of North Little Rock established the other record with a time of 4:31.4 in the mile run. The record was 4:52.0.

Rome's Colosseum, with seating for between 40,000 and 50,000 persons, was opened in A.D. 80.

Mantle Hits 504th, Yanks Break Slump

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Somewhere in the midst of all the hitting that was going on at Tiger Stadium Sunday, there was Mickey Mantle's 504th career home run. Except to Mickey, it could hardly have mattered less.

But on a doubleheader afternoon during which some eight home runs were hit, it was a mere single, hit by Ruben Amaro, that pulled the Yankees out of a four-game losing streak and gave them one game of solace after three of grief against Detroit.

The Tigers hammered four home runs—two by Dick McAuliffe in winning the opening game 9-4. When Willie Horton blasted a three-run shot in the first inning of the second game, his second of the afternoon, the 44,862 fans in attendance might have been forgiven for their thoughts of ending the day in first place.

But the Yankees came pecking back, tied the score on a three-run triple by Tom Tresh in the third and added two more in the same inning on singles by Joe Pepitone and Charlie Smith.

But then, boom, Al Kaline hit another one out, tying the score at 5-5 and that's the way it stayed until the eighth. Steve Whitaker and Smith then singled and then Amaro dropped a single into left field, winning the game 6-5.

Detroit stayed in second place, 11 percentage points behind Chicago.

In other American League games, Boston swept a pair from Cleveland 4-3 and 6-2, Minnesota crushed California 12-3 and Kansas City outlasted Chicago, 5-4.

Smith Sets Two World Records
SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Tommie Smith, who broke the 400-meter and 440-yard world records Saturday, has set his sights on about the only sprint mark he doesn't hold — The 100-yard dash.

"I think I can get the 100-yard record in the near future," Smith said after his record-setting race. "But I'm not saying when the exact date will be."

Smith, wearing sunglasses, roared down the stretch of the San Jose State track and was timed in 44.3 for the meters and 44.8 for the yards.

The 440 mark had belonged to Adolph Plummer of NEW Mexico, who set it four years ago at 44.9. The meter mark also was 44.9 and was held jointly by Plummer, Otis Davis and Mike Larrabee. Davis ran his record in the 1960 Olympics.

Three yards back of Smith in his record dash was San Jose sophomore Lee Evans, who hadn't lost over this distance since high school and had run in international meets.

Smith holds or shares the world standards for the 440 and 400, the 220 and 200 — both straightaway and on the curve — and the 880 and 1,600-meter relays. He also has run the fastest indoor 440.

The 100 and its 9.1 record should prove the toughest for the long-legged Smith, who has trouble on the starting blocks and doesn't really start rolling until later in the race. He has run 9.3.

Constitutional Convention Resolution

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Constitutional Revision Study Commission passed Saturday a resolution calling for a constitutional convention.

The vote was 18-7 on the resolution, which was introduced by former state Rep. Hardy Croxton of Rogers.

The 1967 General Assembly created the commission to decide whether the state's 1874 Constitution needed revision, and if it did, to recommend the best way to do it.

Those opposed to the constitutional convention said they felt constitutional amendments could be used to make any needed revisions.

The 25 members of the 30-member commission who were present had previously voted 13-12 against a motion to delay the commission's decision for a month.

Attorney Ted Boswell of Little Rock and Bauxite seconded the motion to approve the resolution offered by Croxton, a long-time advocate of a constitutional convention.

Maurice Cathey, a Paragould lawyer, said he felt a move by the commission to go on record favoring a convention now would "curtail our operations very substantially."

Dr. Ralph Phelps, president of Ouachita Baptist University, said he was in favor of a convention, but that he felt the Commission would have to "sell" its recommendations before undertaking a convention.

Croxton argued that action would make "future hearings... more meaningful."

Six sub-committees that investigated the need for constitutional revisions affecting local government, general provisions, revenue and finance and the legislative, judicial and executive branches turned in their reports to the commission at Saturday's meeting.

School System Discussed

The Hope School System and Country. He gave information about its operation were discussed by the Superintendent James H. Jones at the Hope Rotary Club meeting last Friday at the Town and at Hope High, plans for a portable cafeteria at Yerger, and he concluded by inviting everyone to visit the former post office which has been converted into an administration building.

Program chairman Jones introduced Earl Downs, guidance counselor at Hope High, and he distributed charts concerning Hope High graduates' scholastic progress in colleges last year. He also said that over the last 10 years 58.5 per cent of Hope High graduates have gone to colleges or universities.

Counselor Downs expressed gratitude to the Hope Rotary Club for sponsoring the first Business Education Day in Hope which was held recently with visits by high school juniors to local business and industrial concerns.

Club President Paul Klipsch had charge of the brief business session and welcomed visiting Rotarian John McKee of Prescott and other guest, Joe Austin and Richard Keyton.

Garrison Says Oswald Did Not Kill JFK

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison says Lee Harvey Oswald did not kill President John F. Kennedy and that the CIA knows who did. "Purely and simply it's a case of former employees of the CIA, a large number of them Cubans — having a venomous reaction from the 1961 Bay of Pigs episode... certain individuals with a fusion of interests in regaining Cuba assassinated the president," Garrison says.

In Washington, a spokesman for the Central Intelligence Agency said the organization would have no comment on Garrison's remarks, made Sunday night in a 23-minute interview with newsmen Bob Jones on WWL-TV.

Garrison said the CIA knows "the name of every man involved and the name of the individuals who pulled the triggers" to kill John F. Kennedy.

He says the CIA has "infinitely more power than the Gestapo and the NKVD of Russia combined." He referred to police organizations of Nazi Germany and the Soviet Union.

Garrison said it would take "only 60 minutes for the CIA to give us the name of every last Cuban involved in this and that's how close we have been to the end for sometime, but we are blocked by this glass wall of this totalitarian, powerful agency which is worried about its nose."

Wounded Convict in Bad Shape

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Paul William Moore, 23, a Tucker Prison Farm escapee who was wounded by his officers during his capture Saturday morning, remained in "very bad shape" today at the State Hospital at Little Rock.

Moore, of Fort Mellon, Canada, was wounded when officers opened fire after he and two other escapees reportedly refused to come out of a barn near the Jefferson Springs community.

A hospital spokesman said Moore suffered brain damage.

One of Moore's companions, Jackie Lee Wood, 25, of Springdale, serving life for the strangulation of a Little Rock girl in 1964, was wounded in the shoulder and was returned to Tucker.

The third escapee, Clarence Dwight Haynes, 25, of Siloam Springs, was taken into custody unharmed.

Wood said the three escapees had two pistols between them, but that they did not fire at the officers. He said he did not blame the authorities for firing, however, since it was dark.

The trio escaped from Tucker Thursday night.

The three were among 11 convicts who escaped from the state's prisons last week. Eight have been captured.

Two of the convicts who are still at large, Clarence Herron, 49, and Phillip Fisher, 47, both of Little Rock, escaped from Cummins Prison Farm the night of May 14.

The other escapee, Billy Wayne Patton, 22, of Ardmore, Okla., sentenced to 15 years for burglary, escaped from Tucker Thursday.

Thomas O. Murton, assistant prison superintendent in charge of Tucker, says 27 inmates have escaped from Tucker since Jan. 1 and 19 since he took over at Tucker more than 90 days ago.

Fly-Up Party Held for Brownies

Screeen Lashes at Johnson

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jim Johnson's first memorandum to the Democratic State Committee was a "masterpiece of scurrility, disunity and pure venom," according to Mayor Jerry J. Screeen of Hazen, a former state senator.

And furthermore, Screeen said in a four-page, type-written "open memorandum and reply to Jim Johnson," he thought it was time "that someone should confront you, in the only language you seem to understand, with the fact that you, with your self-serving and tub-thumping ministry of hate, bigotry, distrust and disunity, are the real scourge of the Democratic Party in Arkansas."

Screeen said he had read "with acute nausea" a copy of Johnson's memorandum of April 21, 1967, in which the 1966 Democratic gubernatorial nominee referred to what he called the "Faubus stink" on the party.

Girl Scout Junior Troop 356 held a Fly-Up party for Brownies

The memorandum accused former Gov. Orval Faubus of "betrayal" and laid the blame for Johnson's defeat at the hands of Republican Winthrop Rockefeller at Faubus' doorstep.

Screeen charged in his memorandum that Johnson was "surrounded... by the most vicious blackguards, poison peddlers and predators ever to be grouped in political enterprise."

Scouts who will be in the 4th grade in September. The girls received their wings, known as fly up scouts—to the junior level.

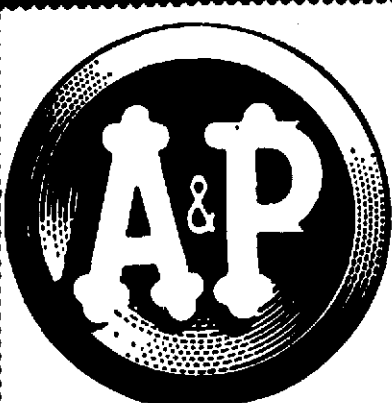

Get acquainted games were played and Patsy Burtch explained the government of Junior Scouts which is the patrol system. Pat Crow gave the 10 scout laws and explained each. Carol Frazier shared her camping experience at High Point at Mena. Punch and cookies were served to six Brownies, 14 Juniors and four visitors.

Old Guard Against Any Change

By ROBERT L. SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Veteran members of the Arkansas General Assembly do not believe a unicameral legislature is the answer to making the legislative process more efficient.

They are enthusiastic in their opposition to the unicameral or one-house system that freshman Rep. Charles Matthews of North Little Rock has advocated and a committee of the Constitutional Revision Study Commission says is worth considering.

Fifteen of 16 veteran representatives and senators polled by The Associated Press expressed opposition, chiefly on ground that the unicameral does not provide the checks and balances afforded by a two-house or bicameral legislature.

The one supporter among the BROTHER CHARLES has stolen most of the headlines lately, but Britain's Princess Anne is growing up quickly, too. The teen-aged daughter of Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh is shown in a chic pink suit she wore in attending the 28th National Scout services recently at Windsor, England.

16 was Rep. Virgil Butler of Batesville.

"The fact that Nebraska has not abolished the unicameral system is good proof to me that it works," Butler said. "The more experience I have as a member of the Arkansas Legislature the more convinced I am that two houses does not necessarily mean better laws."

"Why not have 50 members of the U. S. Supreme Court — one from each state — to be certain we had better interpretation of our laws than to rely on nine old men?"

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller agrees with the majority opinion.

"I was never impressed with the idea and I didn't bring it up," he said. "I see nothing in it appealing to me."

Nebraska went to the unicameral system in 1937 and is the only state in the nation with one house. Sen. Clarence Bell of Parkin said this alone seems to say something against the unicameral.

The reasons the dissenting legislators gave for opposing the one-house system are remarkably similar.

Special interest groups likely would be favored more under a unicameral system, the deliberative process would be unduly speeded up, bills could not be given adequate consideration, the public would not have as great a chance to express its opinion on pending legislation and the chances of domination by the executive branch would be greater.

"As a strong advocate of efficiency in state government, I see merit in Mr. Matthews' suggestions, but we cannot let efficiency outweigh the rights of the people," said Rep. Hayes McClerkin of Texarkana.

"The legislative process needs slowing down, not streamlining," said Rep. O. P. Hammons of Forrest City.

"If we are going to carry the argument that one house is more efficient to its logical conclusion, why not abolish the legislature and let the governor run the show?" asked Sen. Robert Harvey of Swifton.

"I don't feel any of us want to go that far, even though we all concede that one-man rule is efficient."

The legislators said each house of the bicameral legislature served as a watchdog on the other.

"The bicameral system provides two chances at finding and weeding out bad legislation or correcting bills which have flaws, and even then some bad bills can be overlooked," said Rep. Charles Stewart of Fayetteville.

"I have always felt that the two houses provide safeguards in the passage of legislation," said Rep. C. B. Nance Jr. of West Memphis. "Although at times it may appear that this had drawbacks to the passage of certain types of legislation, it always provided protection to the passage of certain unsatisfactory laws."

Bell and Sen. Virgil Fletcher of Benton said an example of one house checking the other was the Senate's killing of a House-passed bill in the 1967 session prohibiting the state from going on Daylight Saving Time.

"After six sessions it is clear to me that no one body is reliable enough to guarantee the quality of legislation that clears through two houses," said House Speaker Sterling R. Cockrill Jr. of Little Rock.

Stewart said it was wrong to assume that with the one man, one vote doctrine, one vote ruling of the U. S. Supreme Court that a majority in both houses will have the same views and therefore one of them is unnecessary.

Rep. Jack S. Cakes of Augusta looked at it from another angle.

"With the reapportionment of both houses on a population basis, it is more important than ever that we should maintain two houses," he said.

Sen. Fred H. Stafford of Marked Tree said he thought that under a one-house system "all the advantage would be centered in the highly populated urban areas" because of the legislation may pass one house because of the personal influence of the author but that undesirable features often can be corrected in the other house.

Rep. Jim Shaver of Wynne said under the present system

Rep. G. W. Turner Jr. of Pine Bluff said law making has and should be based upon unlimited debate and that he feared that a one-house system, under a strong executive, could be "dominated to the point of silence..."

Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott said the General Assembly needed updating, and he felt the state should begin thinking about a split session — a session of 30 days for introduction of bills and assignment to committee and the second session of perhaps 30 days after a 60-day recess to act on the measures.

He said he felt a unicameral system would double the length of the present 60-day session.

Sen. Joe Lee Anderson of Helena said the consensus of lack of one by a one-house legislature might be harmful to the public's interest.

Rep. Ode Maddox of Oden said if a majority of the states chose a unicameral system the next thing that would be suggested would be a one-house Congress and he thought it is "the height of folly even to mention unicameral legislature."

Desert War and Heroism - Story of 'Khartoum'

Probably the greatest living actor in the English language is Laurence Olivier, and if he has a peer it would be Charlton Heston - and both of them are in "Khartoum," which opened at Hope's Saenger Sunday and runs through this Monday night.

It's a famous old action story of blood and sand in the desert of Central Africa's Sudan. Also, it is the classic case of soldiers fighting a war while the politicians back home fight the fighting men.

A holy war is launched in the Sudan by the Mahdi, fanatical tribal leader, and General Charles (Chinese) Gordon is appealed to by Prime Minister Gladstone to take the dangerous mission of making peace at the British stronghold of Khartoum. Gordon was picked for the deadly assignment because once before he had put down the slave trade and brought peace to the Sudan.

But this time Gordon found no peace, and discovered himself besieged in his fort by thousands of howling dervishes. Back in London Prime Minister Gladstone refused to believe the situation was "serious, wasted weeks, finally sent out a relief column - but it was too late. The relief column arrived two days after Gordon and his men were slain - and Great Britain burned angrily over the undeserved fate of her war heroes.

This is "Khartoum," a brilliantly produced and fast-moving desert film released by United Artists and starring two of the greatest names in the theater.

Gordon is played by Charlton Heston, but I looked at the screen a long time before identifying Laurence Olivier. I finally did so by an elimination process. He wasn't Gordon, of course, and while Col. J. D. H. Stewart, played by Richard Johnson, looked very much like Olivier, his voice wasn't right.

That left only the bearded, dark and fanatical Mahdi, the rebel leader - and this was Olivier, the same Shakespearean who gave us the films' greatest "Hamlet," who played a suave Roman general in Kirk Douglas' production of the revolt of the gladiators . . . the most versatile and commanding voice in the world's theaters.

As for Charlton Heston, as Chinese Gordon he equals his performance in "El Cid" - one of the motion pictures' all-time greats.

School Bill Attacked in House

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP) - A Republican-backed school aid bill was attacked in the House today as a proposal to benefit rich suburban areas at the expense of needy school districts.

Opening a debate that could determine the future course of federal aid to education, Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., said the GOP proposal also raised a church-state issue that could wreck the present program.

Final House action is not expected before Tuesday or Wednesday, Democratic leaders hope to hand President Johnson a narrow victory for his $3.5-billion bill, which provides that federal aid flow directly to school districts to meet specific local needs.

The GOP bill proposes that the aid be given in lump sums to the states for distribution.

Amendments proposed by Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., and strongly backed by the GOP leadership, would provide $3 billion for the same general purposes but let the states decide who gets it.

Perkins, who replaced Adam Clayton Powell as chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, said the Quie amendments call for "a radical overhaul of the whole structure of federal aid to elementary and secondary education in the United States."

By using a differential allocation formula, he said, Quie would put more money into the sub-

Long Claims Agencies Out to Get Him

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., says certain federal agencies out to get him apparently are behind re-opening this Monday night.

It's a famous old action story of blood and sand in the desert of Central Africa's Sudan. Also, it is the classic case of soldiers fighting a war while the politicians back home fight the fighting men.

A holy war is launched in the Sudan by the Mahdi, fanatical tribal leader, and General Charles (Chinese) Gordon is appealed to by Prime Minister Gladstone to take the dangerous mission of making peace at the British stronghold of Khartoum. Gordon was picked for the deadly assignment because once before he had put down the slave trade and brought peace to the Sudan.

But this time Gordon found no peace, and discovered himself besieged in his fort by thousands of howling dervishes. Back in London Prime Minister Gladstone refused to believe the situation was "serious, wasted weeks, finally sent out a relief column - but it was too late. The relief column arrived two days after Gordon and his men were slain - and Great Britain burned angrily over the undeserved fate of her war heroes.

This is "Khartoum," a brilliantly produced and fast-moving desert film released by United Artists and starring two of the greatest names in the theater.

Gordon is played by Charlton Heston, but I looked at the screen a long time before identifying Laurence Olivier. I finally did so by an elimination process. He wasn't Gordon, of course, and while Col. J. D. H. Stewart, played by Richard Johnson, looked very much like Olivier, his voice wasn't right.

That left only the bearded, dark and fanatical Mahdi, the rebel leader - and this was Olivier, the same Shakespearean who gave us the films' greatest "Hamlet," who played a suave Roman general in Kirk Douglas' production of the revolt of the gladiators . . . the most versatile and commanding voice in the world's theaters.

As for Charlton Heston, as Chinese Gordon he equals his performance in "El Cid" - one of the motion pictures' all-time greats.

Celebration by Black Nationalists Ends in Brick, Bomb Tossing

By FRANK S. JOSEPH
CHICAGO (AP) - An outdoor meeting of Black Nationalists commemorating the birthday of a slain leader, Malcolm X, turned into a brick- and bomb-tossing melee Sunday in a Negro neighborhood.

The melee erupted when two white girls arrived as spectators. By the time police returned order to the jittery neighborhood, 11 persons had been injured, including 4 policemen, and 41 men, women and children were under arrest.

The meeting took place on a low hill in Washington Park in the South Side. An undercover policeman who was there, Carl Ford, said it did not turn disorderly until the arrival of two white girls in their early 20s.

Ford, a Negro, wearing the clothes of a college student and a pistol strapped under his arm, said, "When the two white girls came up the hill, that triggered the violence."

"They hollered, 'Here's white power, let's get them!' and Negro girls began beating the white girls and pulling their hair. 'Before you knew it, the whole hill was coming down on these people,'

"So all we could do at that point was intercede and announce ourselves as policemen, draw our guns and protect the girls," Ford said. He was one of three undercover men at the meeting.

His commander, Lt. Robert Harness, said, "The crowd resented the policemen, who were colored, helping the white girls. There was fighting, throwing of bricks and rocks. Then they threw fire bombs, about four of them, at the station."

The crowd surged from the meeting site. At one point, an attempt was made to knock over a statue of George Washington.

The group had decided to rename the park in honor of Malcolm X, Ford said the arrests began when the group tried to uproot a "Washington Park"

Litter Tests Made by Hope Station

In beef steer grazing trials conducted at the University of Arkansas Agriculture Experiment Station's Southwest Branch Station, daily gains were highest on pastures receiving four tons of chicken litter per acre and lowest on pastures receiving 600-300-300 pounds of fertilizer per acre.

These results were reported to those attending the Study Day held May 19 at the Hope facility by Dr. A. E. Spooner, agronomist with the Experiment Station.

These grazing trials were conducted on common and coastal bermudagrass pastures, both of which were overseeded with Louisiana 51 white clover.

"Since daily gains is considered a good measure of forage quality, it is obvious that something happened to the forage in the high treatment to lower its quality," said Spooner. "We believe the low daily gain obtained from the high treatment was due to excessive trampling and manure droppings caused by the extremely high stocking rate that was necessary to keep the forage grazed to the desired height."

Steer days per acre increased with increased fertilizer rates, Spooner continued. There was no difference in steer days between the two grasses when averaged over fertilizer levels for the four years of the tests.

Steer gains per acre were also increased by increased fertilizer rates. Again, there was no significant difference in steer gains between the two grasses when averaged over all fertilizer treatments. In fact, there were only six pounds per acre difference in steer gains between the grasses, he said.

The visitors heard, in addition to Spooner's report, a discussion of results of cow-calf herd management experiments conducted by Dr. M. L. Ray, animal husbandman with the Experiment Station, Dr. E. M. Crelley, Experiment Station director, and C. A. Vines, Extension Service director, also discussed the overall beef cattle research and extension programs carried on by the University.

Marlar Is Still Missing

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) - Jerrell K. Marlar, 36, of Rosston (Nevada County), a convicted murderer who escaped here Feb. 5, is still at large, state Prison Supt. O. E. Bishop said Sunday.

State Police reported Saturday night that Marlar had been captured.

Bishop said a Cummins ward-en had instructed the State Police by telephone to remove from their list of escapees the name of Marion Odell Morrow, 23, who escaped last Tuesday and was recaptured Thursday.

The similarity between the names "Morrow" and "Marlar" apparently caused the confusion, Bishop said.

Marlar was serving a life sentence in the 1962 slaying of Thomas O. Bond of Bossier City, La., who was found shot to death in woods near Fouke, about 15 miles southeast of Texarkana.

Arabs Plan to Cut Rich Oil Lines

BETRUT, Lebanon (AP) - Arab workers will blow up Western oil installations in the Middle East and strike against all Western air and sea traffic if war breaks out between the Arabs and Israel, the secretary-general of the Pan-Arab Federation of Labor Trade Unions declared today.

Hashem Ali Mohsen made his threat at an emergency meeting of the federation's executive council in Damascus, the Syrian capital, as more Arab forces were moved up to Israel's borders and U.N. Secretary-General U Thant prepared to fly to Cairo in an attempt to ease the Middle East crisis.

The threat to blow up Western oil installations in the Arab world have been made frequently. Syria blew up the Iraq Petroleum Co's pipelines during the Suez war in 1956.

Opening the labor conference, Syrian Chief of State Nureddin el-Atassi said Syria and Egypt are prepared to repel any Israeli aggression and "start the final liberation battle" against the Jewish state.

Atassi said Arab commando raids into Israel would continue, declaring: "There is no power on earth that can stand in their way." Israeli threats to retaliate if the commando raids were not stopped touched off the current crisis and brought thousands of Syrian and Egyptian troops to Israel's borders.

Pollution Plan Released

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Burning garbage or trash within 10 miles of a city of 25,000 or more would be prohibited under a proposed air pollution code released Saturday by the Arkansas Pollution Control Commission.

S. L. Davies, director of the commission, said burning would be prohibited within five miles of a city with a population of 2,500.

The code also would prohibit motor vehicles that emit a "visible air contaminant" from idling their motors for more than 10 seconds, but Davies said the rule probably would not be enforceable because this would prohibit motorists from leaving their automobiles running while stopped at traffic lights.

Communist Ceasefire Ignored, U.S. Planes Blast Hanoi Targets

Won't Enter N. Vietnam, Says General

WASHINGTON (AP) - The top U.S. military officer says American ground forces will not enter North Vietnam even in hot pursuit of a fleeing enemy.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler Jr., chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said Sunday that U.S. action in the so-called demilitarized zone along the north border of South Vietnam is intended only to clear out North Vietnamese forces.

"We have no intention of invading North Vietnam, he said. Asked whether American forces would break off any pursuit of fleeing enemy troops at the boundary between North and South Vietnam, Wheeler said: "Yes. Gen. Westmoreland's mandate is to fight the war in South Vietnam, not elsewhere."

15 Gls Are Killed by Red Mortars

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) - U.S. planes ignored the Communist cease-fire for Buddha's birthday today and raided Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital. Pilots reported shooting down one MIG jet.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the planes subjected northern and southern sections of Hanoi "to massive bombings." The U.S. Air Force did not say what targets were attacked.

The Czechoslovak news agency CTK reported from Hanoi that the North Vietnamese capital was without electricity and water following Sunday's U.S. air raid on a power plant. Most of the plant was damaged, CTK added.

The Communists ushered in their two-day cease-fire with a dozen heavy mortar attacks before the deadline and a later attack on a U.S. force killed 15 Americans and wounded 71.

The Communists also blew the tracks from beneath a South Vietnamese military train nearly three hours after their 48-hour cease-fire was to have become effective at 7 a.m. Saigon time, or 7 p.m. EDT Sunday.

South Vietnamese and allied forces had said they would not begin their 24-hour truce for Buddha's birthday until one minute after midnight tonight, or 12:01 p.m. EDT today. The Communists caught a unit of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division as it was moving out on a sweep mission in the central highlands 33 miles southwest of Pleiku and at 7:02 a.m. opened up with intense mortar and rocket grenade fire.

U.S. headquarters said the American infantry battled an estimated Red battalion of perhaps 500 men for four hours. Thirty-two of the enemy were reported killed.

Under the generally understood ground rules for cease-fires in Vietnam, the Reds could have considered the U.S. sweep as an offensive action and their attack as self-defense.

After hard fighting Sunday just below the demilitarized zone, U.S. military headquarters said no contacts were reported today along the Ben Hai River line in the zone where U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops were consolidating their positions.

BOEING'S 747, which will be in use by airlines within a few years, will offer unmatched spaciousness for passengers and bigger problems for the carriers. Photo shows the extra-wide cabin of the 747.

AIR TRAVEL TODAY

By ROBERT COCHNAR
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Last week some 100 people clustered at a departure gate in Kennedy Airport for a 3:30 p.m. flight to Barbados in the West Indies.

At 3:15 they were told the plane had been delayed because of hydraulic difficulties and that an announcement would be made at 4:15. At 4:45—too late to catch a competing airline flight—it was announced that the flight had been delayed to 6:30 p.m.

The group was informed at 5 to take a bus to the nearby Statler Hilton Motel where rooms and dinner were ready. The plane wouldn't leave until 10:30 p.m.

When they reached the motel they were told the flight wouldn't leave until 7 the next morning. The frustrated passengers were roused from their comfy Hilton beds at 4:20 a.m.; the plane, hal-lelujah, was ready for boarding.

Only it wasn't. The aircraft finally left at 3:30 p.m., exactly 24 hours late.

The above may not be a typical tale of horrors, but neither is it apocryphal; it happened and it will happen again.

There may have been a perfectly logical explanation for the 24-hour delay, but try to tell that to the 100 vacation-bound travelers.

One of the infuriating practices of air carriers may finally be solved. Until now, airlines had to pay $5 to $50 in penalties to anyone who held a reservation and was denied space at the airport. A new government ruling, it's reported, will penalize carriers up to $200. In many other areas, however, the airlines are way ahead of the government.

They have, for example, just about figured out the internal configuration of the new Boeing 747 jumbo jets they'll be getting in late 1969. Although Boeing says the plane can hold up to 490 passengers, most lines are figuring on about 350. This means plenty of room.

Passengers will occupy a single-deck cabin section 20 feet wide (seven feet wider than the 707). A variety of seating arrangements is possible, with two aisles running the length of the cabin. This, Boeing says, will afford "a level of comfort and spaciousness unmatched in present interior accommodations" as well as room for innovations such as lounges, theaters and private passenger areas.

There's an upper level, too, joined to the main passenger area by a circular stairway.

And just over the horizon is the supersonic transport, the SST, which will take passengers from New York to Paris in 2½ hours, flying at 1,850 miles per hour.

The industry isn't completely starry-eyed over this great technological advance. They are also concentrating on the relatively mundane procedures like ticketing.

TWA's Jack Brough, vice president for properties and facilities, sketched in the future ticket-buying operation:

"There'll be satellite ticket and reservations centers spotted throughout the country. The passenger will check out of his hotel, say, and walk across the lobby to the automated passenger service station.

"There'll be a keyboard console and the passenger will simply punch up his destination and time and class of service. The information will be fed into the master computer and, within seconds, his space will be reserved if it's available.

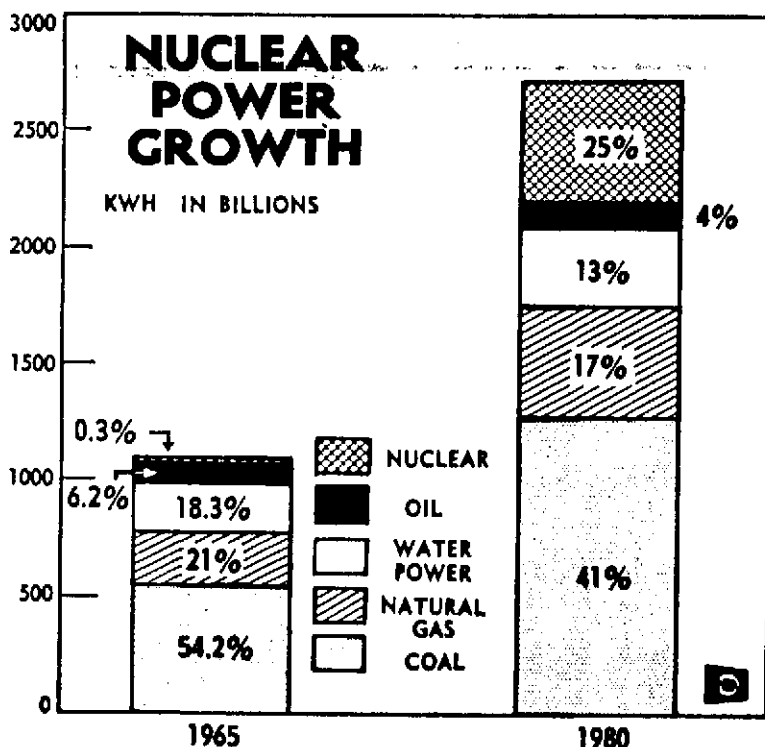

"Let's say he'll want a hotel room and a car at his destination. He'll feed that into the station. He'll then punch the master switch and out will come the ticket and the price.

"At the airport, the automated baggage system will be ready for him at the parking lot. He'll walk several hundred feet to the plane gate, insert his ticket in a slot. The gate will swing open and he'll be off. When he reaches his destination his luggage, through automation, will be waiting for him at his rental car."

The industry is convinced that such service is not far away and believes that, in time, the vexing problems confronting today's air traveler will be unpleasant history.

As Brough says, "the industry has no place to go but up."

By 1980, nuclear installations will be producing between 80,000 and 110,000 megawatts of electricity, a full quarter of the nation's power-producing capacity, according to Atomic Energy Commission forecasts.

Rats Rule Vietnam Slums

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

BUIPHAT, Vietnam—(NEA)—The old man lives on the shallow side of the river channel, next to a reeking silt trench which is the public toilet. He is a hopeless cripple. Most of one leg is missing.

The war? someone asks.
No, he says.
What then?
Con chuot, he says, "the rat."

Here in the slums of Saigon the government's political war is of secondary despair to the miserably impoverished. Their chief enemy is four-legged. And with the winds of every evening the adversaries come, tails whipping the earth . . . thousands upon thousands of filthy brown rats.

The old man is one of countless victims. Rodents outpopulate people in this nation and, in recent years of overcrowding and underdeveloping, they have caused more trouble than Viet Cong guerrillas.

In the slums, the toll is ghastly. The old man was bitten while in bed, had no money for medicine or treatment, suffered until a rot set in, and then finally visited the surgeon for amputation.

Others have lost fingers, even ears. Children have been viciously mobbed while playing in infested alleyways. Women have been attacked in pregnancy. Immobility has provided human feasts.

But brutality is not the rat's only weapon. Disease is another. Each creature is a potential transporter of the dreaded bubonic plague.

Figures make the point:
In 1961 there were eight plague victims.
In 1963 there were 119.
In 1965 there were nearly 4,500.

And in addition to plague, roadblock. It is impossible the nation's rodents—wallowing in the foulest filth—are the continuing carriers of such disorders as dysentery, infectious jaundice, rabies and tularemia.

In sum, the rodent has executed every vile form of animal provocation in Vietnam . . . and, sadly, he is a well-equipped aggressor.

Biologically, he is nature's ideal vandal. His teeth grow at the rate of four inches a year and thus require constant gnawing and honing. Add a stomach capable of any consumption and the rat will gorge on leather, tin, cement, plastic, rubber . . . and even human bone.

Further, the rat is numerically superior to local slum families. He has strength of numbers which beggars the imagination. It is not uncommon to see 50-100 swarming over great mounds of open refuse.

Health officials are hamstringing. Now and then they launch control programs, only to wind up with a couple hundred dead rats and utter defeat.

Citizen co-operation is the for exterminators to get collaboration in the most needy areas—those inhabited by mental deficiencies who defecate the streets for convenience and treat neighborhood garbage piles like supermarket. Anyway, killing rats seems to serve little advantage. Some always survive. And, given ideal conditions, a single remaining female can bear 10 litters every year . . . for a total of nearly 100 young.

It is, in fact, statistically possible for one pair to produce as many as 350 million descendants every 36 months of their lives.

The figures, fortunately, are merely mathematic projections. Most rats are killed in infancy by predators. Thus their total population here remains a constant (and estimated) 15 million.

That, though, is plenty. It exactly equals the nation's human population.

And if the one-to-one odds seem to favor the citizen, it must be understood that the rats are not spread out with the population, that they stay in the city slums . . . and, therefore, in a few dozen acres of a few thousand people, rats may exist in the millions.

THE WELL CHILD® Young Bones Withstand More and Heal Easier

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Fractures in children present a different problem from those in adults. Many falls in children result in no fracture under circumstances that would cause broken bones in adults. This is because the bones in children resemble a sapling whereas those of an old man resemble a dried twig. In fact there is a type of fracture, seen only in children, called greenstick fracture—an incomplete break in which the surface on the outward side of a bone when it is bent splits but the inward side does not.

A deformity following a fractured limb in a child often corrects itself as the child grows. This is the reason that much more conservative methods of treatment can be used than in an adult with a similar break. An exception is a type of fracture in which there is a separation of the bone at the epiphysis or growth center. (These centers disappear when the growth of the bone is complete.) Epiphyseal separations are often hard to treat.

Most fractures in children heal rapidly. A complete fracture of the femur in an infant will heal completely in about 10 days. On the other hand, traction cannot be used in a young child because the wires and pins used pull through the child's softer bones. A fracture seems to stimulate the growth of the injured bone. Thus sometimes the fractured limb instead of becoming shorter than its mate becomes longer. In any case the best treatment for fractures in children is prevention.

Q—Our son, 12, has epiphysitis in his left knee. Our doctor says the only treatment is to put the left leg in a cast. How common is this disease? Will the leg ever heal completely?

A—Judging by the number of questions I get about this disease it is very common. The catch is that there are so many names for it—osteochondritis, Osgood-Schlatter's disease and, if it involves the hip, Perthes' disease. If your son is placed in a walking cast or wears a brace or other device to keep him from bearing any weight on his knee until bone growth is nearly complete (about age 15) he should recover without any effects of the disease.

This Sparrow Likes Florida Climate

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A sparrow evidently heard that the thing to do was to come south for the winter. So he came to Miami and built his home in a warehouse freezer.

The warmest temperatures there are 38 to 39 degrees below zero and the bird, who found his new home three weeks ago, won't budge.

"That bird must be from outer space," said Fred Duncombe, who loads and unloads produce at the warehouse.

"When I come in, he looks at me like he knows me," he said. "Sometimes he swoops down to my shoulders, but then he flies off."

Workmen have left the door open for hours so the bird could get out, but nothing doing. He just peeks out curiously and stays where he is.

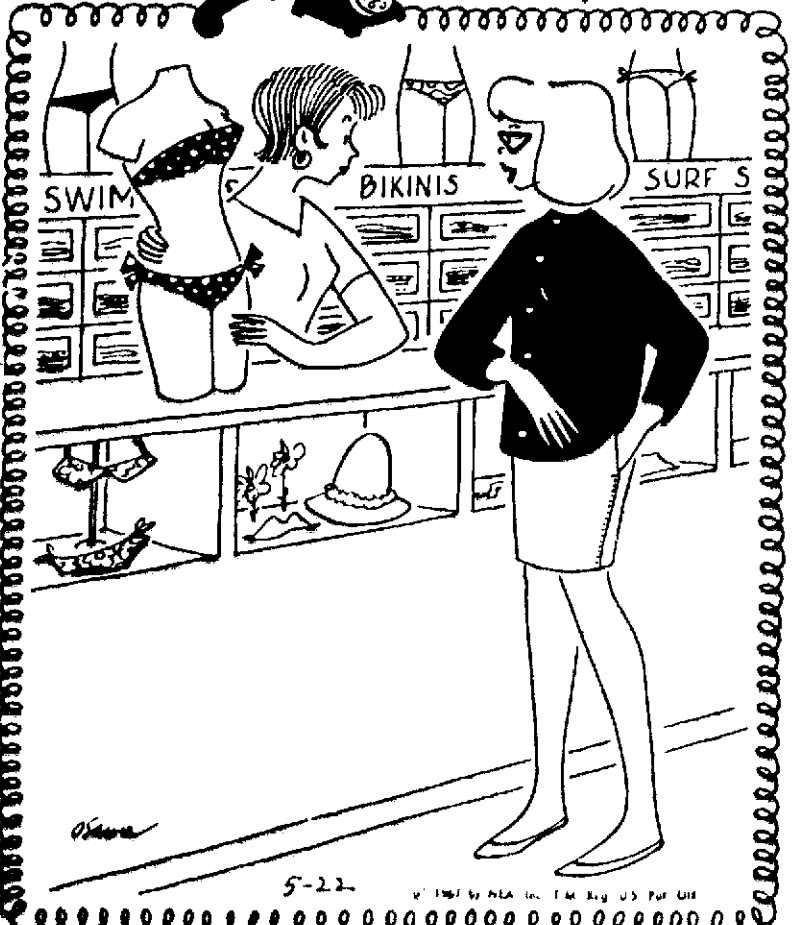

"He flies up and down the freezer every day," said Jack Westbrook. The bird drinks water from the ice and flies over to the frozen foods department for more nourishing staples, Westbrook said.
